

CLAIMS LAWSON URGED KILLING

Witness Says Union Leader
Spurred Colorado Miners to Shoot Opponents.

Trinidad, Colo., April 27.—Charles Snyder, star witness for the prosecution in the trial of John R. Lawson, labor leader, charged with the murder of John Nimmo, on Oct. 25, 1912, testified on cross examination today that he was not "indirectly in the employ of the Baldwin-Felts detective agency."

Says Lawson Urged Shooting.
Just before the cross examination the witness testified that while he was employed by the United Mine Workers he heard John Lawson to a speech at the Laramie tent colony on Oct. 7, 1912, say: "Boys, we are in this fight to win. We'll get the guns to arm you will kill every 4-d Baldwin-Felts detective in this country."

On another occasion he said Lawson said: "Boys, if you're going to shoot, shoot to kill. Don't let any of them get away."

"Fight," says "Mother" Jones.
The witness then was asked what "Mother" Jones said in her speech on the same day. Horace N. Hawkins for the defense objected on the ground that nothing Mrs. Jones might have said was competent evidence against Lawson. The objection was overruled.

"Mother" Jones said, "Don't sit here like a lot of numbskulls, but get out and fight; don't sit here on your haunches like they have done in northern Colorado. Fight, 4-d you fight?"

VICTOR OCHOA ON TRIAL WEDNESDAY

With Holmdahl, Is Charged With Attempting to Influence Witnesses.

The United States district court jury was given a recess Monday afternoon until Wednesday morning, while Judge Henry D. Clayton took up the hearing of nonjury cases and various motions. Wednesday morning Victor L. Ochoa, and E. L. Holmdahl, who are under indictment charging them with neutrality law violation, will go on trial, charged with attempting to influence government witnesses.

The alleged tampering with government witnesses took place, it is charged, after the examining trial of Ochoa and Holmdahl several weeks ago. It is probable that the Ochoa and Holmdahl trial will mark the finish of the present term of federal court.

From here Judge Clayton will go to San Antonio, where a number of cases are waiting trial on the federal docket. The suit of J. M. Powell vs. Luis Terrazas for an alleged breach of contract was decided in favor of Terrazas by the operation of the statute of limitation. Powell charged that Terrazas had violated a contract by an alleged failure to deliver a certain number of cattle to him.

VICTOR OCHOA ARRESTED AGAIN

Held Following Confession of Man Implicated in Kress Robbery.

Victor L. Ochoa was arrested Monday night by members of the sheriff's office and city detectives in connection with the burglary of the Kress store on the night of April 17. A search of his residence in Grandview addition was also made.

Ochoa, according to the police, was implicated by R. C. Tompkins, the man arrested Saturday night by city detectives, and who is alleged to have confessed to the blowing of the safe, from which about $1200 was taken. Tompkins is said to have made a signed statement to the detectives in which he alleged that Ochoa furnished the tools with which the robbery was committed.

Officers Are Searched.
On Monday the county and city peace officers were led to believe that Ochoa was getting ready to leave the city. During the afternoon a search of his offices in the Trust building was made, and it was found practically everything there had been removed. Monday evening, sheriff Peyton J. Edwards and deputy sheriff Stanley Goud, Jr., watched Ochoa's home. They saw someone leave an automobile three blocks away and come to the house. A short time after the man was seen to emerge with a son of Ochoa and go to the machine. The officers thought that a small bundle was carried away.

Ochoa Arrested.
About 7:30, with a search warrant, chief deputy sheriff Stanley Goud, and city detectives John H. Villias and Claude Smith joined the other officers and entered the Ochoa home and placed him under arrest. The house was then searched.

While the search was under way, an automobile stopped in the same spot as did the previous machine. A man started towards the Ochoa home, but turned back and departed.

Medina as "esteemed friend."

"I have just now been informed of the accusation which enemies of yours have made in reference to the supposed malversation of funds which they say I sent you and of which you have not been able to justify their disposal."

"The statement above mentioned is absolutely without foundation, because I have neither remitted funds of any kind nor have you had to justify before me a fact of which you are the public funds, being the only ones to which they might have reference in this instance, are handled directly by the tax collector, the tax office of the state of Chihuahua, I contradict in all its parts the unfounded version, and I make haste to address the matter so that you may dispose of it in any manner you wish. Yours very sincerely, F. Villa."

"CITY PARKS" "CITY PARKS"

Chamber of Commerce Directors to Urge Commissioners to Make Repairs.

That the county roads as a whole are in poor condition and should be repaired at once, was the substance of a decision reached by the chamber of commerce directors at their regular weekly luncheon Tuesday in the Sheldon cafe.

The civic committee of the trade association will appear at the next meeting of the commissioners' court and urge the commissioners to begin immediately the work of repairing and rebuilding the highways. Walter Kohlberg is chairman of the committee. Other members are H. S. Potter, Burt Orndorff and J. P. Primm.

Roads Are Discussed.
Conversational discussion of the road topic at the luncheon brought out that the county highways, especially to the west of the city, are full of chuckholes. The north loop road to the east is also in bad shape, it was said.

Secretary Reeves was instructed to get in communication with such organizations as the Architects' association, or any other business organization, to endeavor to bring them into the chamber of commerce as a whole, making each branch of business a separate bureau in the work of the chamber of commerce as the combining hand.

Those at the luncheon were E. E. Neff, Burt Orndorff, A. W. Reeves, H. S. Potter, Walter Kohlberg, John Leisk Tait, George H. Clements, J. P. Primm and A. W. Heaven.

THIN FOLKS GET FAT ON THREE MEALS A DAY
Specialist Explains Why Food Does Not Always Produce Flesh and How This People Can Increase Weight.

Most people who are thin and under normal weight eat heartily but get no increase in flesh, while plump, chunky folks of normal weight eat less than they do and keep stout all the time. The underweight cause finally decide Nature intended them to be thin, that the amount or nature of their food has nothing to do with flesh-making and that nothing can make them fat. But this is not so.

A stout, strong, robust body can come alone from food nourishment. Food is the source of all fat and if you are thin and underweight it is merely a certain indication that only a small portion of the flesh-making nourishment in your meals is reaching your blood and tissues. The assimilative function of your stomach and intestines are working properly and the larger part of the food value is leaving your body as waste.

To correct such a condition, to gain flesh, increase weight and get 100 per cent. value from your food, a single Sargol tablet taken at each meal will work wonders. Sargol is a scientific combination of its splendid assimilative agents. It promptly stops the leakage of fats and while aiding digestion, also separates every last particle of the fats, oils, sugars and starches of your food from the waste matter and prepares the former into rich, ripe, flesh-producing nourishment which is absorbed directly into your blood stream throughout the body. Weight increase usually begins within a very few days after use of Sargol with meals. In my opinion, two ordinary hearty meals eaten with Sargol is equal in flesh-making value to six ordinary hearty meals eaten without it. Try it, you people who are thin, run down and underweight, and see if it's not right.

You can't get fat by eating Sargol. Sargol drug store or any druggist, herb store and every package contains a positive guarantee of weight increase and a healthy body. While also valuable as a treatment for nervous indigestion, it should not be used by people who do not wish to increase weight.

This will prove a welcome bit of information for all those who are overworked, gloomy, despondent, nervous and have trembling limbs, heart palpitation, dizziness, cold extremities, insomnia, fear, nervousness, anxiety, indigestion, and general inability to act naturally and rationally as others do, because the treatment consisting of Sargol tablets can be obtained and taken without the knowledge of any one. If the reader has any of the symptoms, and decides to try it, just go to any large, well stocked drug store and ask for three-grain Sargol tablets, and then take according to the directions on the box. The tonic-invigorating power is soon felt and the joy of a healthy body experienced. These tablets, originally dispensed by prominent physicians and pharmacists, now are packed with full directions for self administration, so that it is wholly unnecessary to pay a physician for prescribing them.—Advertisement.
